Dear Sirs/Madams:

I am a dedicated member of the New England Anti-Vivisection Society. I am also a member of a class of people who is strongly dedicated to the well-being and care for our "other" animal friends.

As you know, the ECVAM has approved dozens of validated non-animal tests while the United States agency has only one. This is hard to believe!

I strongly support the ICCVAM's acceptance of internationally validated non-animal testing.

Sincerely,

Susan P. Eisele
